JOCKEY BUTWELL, RESTORED TO FAVOR PILOTS KEENE COLT TO VICTORY.

Combination Is One That Has Not Yet Been Beaten -May River Defeats Prince Gal in Seneca Stakes at Sprinting Distance.

Saratoga, N. Y., August 12.—Sweep's presence in the introductory dash at the race course today aroused more interest and sentiment than all of the remaining races on the card combined. Jockey Butwell, temporarily restored to favor, had the mount on James R. Keene's crack. Thus far the combination of horse and jockey has an unbeaten recent. Sewilte rode the cold in his two defeats: Lucking the coldinary of the c

Colt's Showing of Yesterday Pleases His Trainer Honeful Candidates Get Final Keving Up.

Saratoga, N. Y., August 12.—Sweep found a track to his liking today, and, with 120 pounds up, won the opening bandicap, running three-quarters in 1:132. Herkimer, a colt of great speed but unable to maintain a strong pace for over half a mile, cut out the work. Sweep broke in the middle of the bunch, quickly advanced to the pacemaker's shoulder and the pair drew away from all others, excepting Hampton Court, Butwell, wearing the Keene colors for the first time since June 12, when he cased up Hilarious in the last sixteenth of the Carlton Stakes to an extent that enabled Joe Madden to almost inp him on the post, was astride of Sweep. He rode with commendable judgment, eased the colt around the time, permitting Herkimer to draw clear, and then moved up and assumed command on straightening out. He took no chances but set the colt down and the time, permitting Herkimer to draw clear, and then moved up and assumed command on straightening out. He took no chances but set the colt down and hand out of the searly pace, finished strongly and Sweep had to be fully extended to reach the goal girst by a neck, according to the judges' view of the finish. Louise S. is evidently better than rated. It is likely that handicapper Vosburgh will have more resucct for her in future.

While Sweep did not equal his work, his showing was in all respects pleasing to Jimmy Rowe, who said: "I watched him so closely that I did not even time the race. I wanted to see if he could not get away better and run better than he did in the Special. He showed me that he could run when he had a chance. The other day he could not stride in the going. I cannot tell whether I will start him in the Hopeful. He was worked this a firencon between the third and fourtiaces. Tom Healy said: "If was nice work and he will start Saturday." Barleythorpe and Ocean Bound is start Saturday." Barleythorpe and Ocean hondy's two-year-old can outrum him. ## MOST VALUABLE STAKES OF THIS YEAR

So far this year thirty-eight stake races of $3,000 or more in value to the winner have been run. Of these the Belmont with its $24,550 to the winner was much the most valuable and will prove the richest event of the year unless surpassed by the Futurity. Then in order of value follow the Lawrence Realization, Tidal Stakes, National Stafflon Race, Burns Handleap and Withers Stakes, these being all that have exceeded $10,000 in net results to the winner. It compares poorly with two years back, but serves to show that there is still good money to be won on the American turf. Particulars of the thirty-eight stakes are as follows:

ters Wednesday in 1:14½ and it is assumed that it was preparatory to racing Saturday.

May River beat a real good thing today when he headed Prince Gal home in the Seneca, He went wide just as he did when he won Monday. When Pat Dunne commented on the long route Creevy took the gelding Monday, Tonn Healy replied: "I didn't care how far out he went so long as he did not have to pull off other horses. He is a horse that you cannot have been good in the wine him he was that you cannot take him back without the wine him endles handleap impressively. She was a hot tip on work since her previous start. Dorante was well thought of by the Forsythe connections. He made a promising move on the turn but otherwise did nothing to justify the backing he received.

Rome Respess held an involuntary reception in the paddock before he sent Wintergreen to the post. Will Woodward became facetions over the gathering and remarked: "Rome, if you had not won that race yesterday not one of us would have come near you."

The jumping race was begun with thrilling, at roaring faree. The first time at the water jump Meno belied and tried to clear the left wing, which to tree down as he plunged headlong beyond. Then, at the Liverpool, directly opposite the clubhouse, Sunglow and Recruit came to grief. Kermath, who rode Recruit, was carried away in an ambulance, but had fully recovered before nightfall. The other iders escaped unhurt. The second time around Creolin, after running close to the Liverpool, refused with a sudden prop and turn that provoked general aughter. After three efforts to force the horse over the obstacle the Life issuemath that an unable to shy, take the imme He heided, dropped the boy in the ditch and then climbed once to level ground. Then the stewards sent an order for the exercise boy to stop because the regular rider was standing on the ground unhurt. No such order was necessary. The exercise boy had had enough and had stopped.

ANOTHER CHANCE FOR SIR MARTIN.

Sir Martin is to try for another big race abroad, this time in France. He is expected to be a starter in the race for the Grand Prix de Trouville-Deauville at Deauville, France, next Sunday. This is one of the great international prizes of the French turf and is a dash of a mile and five-eighths for three year-olds and over at weight-for-age with poundlies and allowances. It is at $2,000 each, with $20,000 added and so a race of high way which the starter of allowances that make his weight but 10 pounds. Verdun, of his own age and winner of the Grand Prix de Paris, is so penaltized that he has to carry the stiff impost of 131 pounds. Conte Le Marois four-year-old. Sauge Pourpree, is top-weight at 140 pounds. W. K. Vanderbill's three-year-old Rhoolin, pood colt, is in at the weight at 140 pounds. W. K. Vanderbilt's three-year-old Ripolin, probably a good colt, is in at the same weight as Sir Martin. The latter has had a special preparation for this rich race and, at latest reports, was looking and working splendidly. If he comes in first it will be some recompense for the misfortune that overtook him in the Epsom Derby, But to win he will have to defeat some of the best horses in France.

WOODFORD CLAY WILLING FOR MATCH.

Saratoga, N. Y., August 12.—Woodford Clay has expressed a willingness to match Ocean Bound against Waldo, or any other two-year-old, after the running of the Futurity, which he is hopeful of winning with the daughter of Star Shoot—Flying Ship.

Nothing, however, will be permitted to interfere with the starting of the Star Shoot filly in the great two-year-old event at Sheepshead Bay. She will be pointed for the Futurity as soon as she is through with the Hopeful, in which she will start Saturday.

through willy the Hopeful, in which she will start Saturday.
There was some talk of a possible sale of Waldo to James E, Gaffney. But it is improbable that Mr. Harrison will part with Waldo. He is getting a stud together and he will put Waldo at the head of it when the Planudes coit is through with racing.

DRAKE COLORS TO BE SEEN AGAIN.

Saratoga, N. Y., August 12.—William Bissert, who has just returned from abroad, left John A. Drake in France. Mr. Drake will come home in the fall and it is expected that he will have a stable of horses in training next season. There are at P. T. Chlun's farm, near Harrodsburg, Ky., eighteen or twenty yearlings belonging to Mr. Drake. They are sons and daughters of the Iowa turfman's famous race horse, Ort Wells, winner of the Tidal and Realization Stakes of 1994, and conqueror of Reidame in the Brighton Mile in 1995. Mr. Chinn does not know what disposition Mr. Drake may make of these youngsters, but he is of the opinion that he will train them. Their dams were all mares that bore Mr. Drake's colors a few years ago.

INNOVATION GOES INTO EFFECT MONDAY.

Saratoga, N. Y., August 12.—The practice of selling winners in the paddock instead of at the judges' stand will be put into effect here next Monday. "It is done this way in France and England and is always an interesting spectacle there." said Andrew Miller in making an announcement of the change.

SHEEPSHEAD BAY GOSSIP.

New York, August 12.—Superintendent Frank Clarke of the Coney Island Jockey Club's course at Sheepshead Bay is bending his energies toward beautifying the splendid plant while racing is in progress at Saratoga Springs. A brick walk has been recently laid on the lawn which divides the grandstand and paddock enclosure, and painters are putting the finishing touches on the judges' and timers' stands. The main and training courses are in superb condition. Candidates for the Futurity and other races to be run over this historic course will be tried and raced over a fast but absolutely safe track. The cankino could not be improved on as it is what turfmen would term a happy medium. The stable of largest proportions at the track is that of James R. Keene, and is composed entirely division of the Keene string for a number of years, is again in charge of this branch of the stable this season. Back in the 90's trainer Green saddled the horses which bore the Keene sliks with considerable success. In 1896 Green trained the fleet Englishered filly, Rhodesia, when she defeated M. F. Dwyer's Cleophus over the Brighton Beach track. Slow galloping has been the order of training up to date, but in the autumn the youngsters will be given a chance to show their real worth in trials. Upon these moves depend the selection of juveniles to carry the stable sliks in stake events. It is needless to say that the colts and fillies in this collection are above the average. Special care was exercised when they were pleked out of a lot which numbered over fifty.

PLANS OF THE BEDWELL STABLE.

Saratoga, N. Y., August 12.—H. G. Bedwell has decided that some of his horses that have been racing steadily for months are in need of a let-up. He las decided to freshen them up by a long rest for the coming winter's racing. He will get them good and fat and take them either to California or to Juarez after the wind-up of the eastern season. Mr. Bedwell believes that there will be racing in California. Prince Ahmed, Bellwether, Nadzu and the others that are in good condition will go to Sheepshead Bay to race. Some horsemen profess to think that Prince Ahmed will not go farther than one mile. Mr. Bedwell, however, believes that the King Hanover horse will carry his speed as far as horses are asked to go, and he will point the horse for the Twin City Handleap.

OLD-TIMERS MISSING AT SARATOGA.

The absence of former noted patrons of the turf is a subject of comment at Saratoga. John W. Gates, John A. Drake, Jesse Lewisolm, Dave Johnson, James B. Brady, E. R. Thomas, Charley Ellison, Al Dryce, Frank J. Farrell, Joe Cassidy, "Big Tim" Sullivan and others who formerly wagered thousands on the races at the Spa are among the missing. The leading operators, on a comparatively small scale, at Saratoga nowadays include Tom Shaw, Eddie McDonald, Jack McGinnis, Tom Monahan, Bob Rose, Bob Holloway, Frank Tyler, "Whitey" Langdon, George Relf, "Cad" Doggett, Charley Cash, George Wheelock, Tom Costigan and other regulars.

FRENCHMAN'S OPINION OF OUR RACING.

Saratoga, N. Y., August 12.—Count Guillaumo de Ganay, brother of the Marquis de Ganay, who is one of the leading members of the French Jockey Club, was an interested spectator of the races here yesterday. "I think the American plan of excluding crowds from the infield is superior to the continental way of doing things," he said, "The public gets a much better view of the entire race than abroad. As for your horses, I think the stake horses are equal in class to those of France and England, but what you call your selling platers seem to be inferior on the average to those seen abroad. As for the betting systems I much prefer the American way to the pari-mutuels."

SATISFIED TO LET WELL ENOUGH ALONE.

New York, August 12.—The plan of several layers at Saratoga to form a so-called mutual protective association will not receive the sanction of the ture governors, who insist that betting of an oral nature must be confined strictly to individuals, with no semblance of organized bookmaking. In due time it is believed that the courts will rule that cash wagers are no more illegal than oral bets and that a bettor may record his private transactions, in which event, it is argued, the layers and players will be sufficiently protected against loss. But just now the turf governors are satisfied to let well enough alone.

VANDERBILT HORSES RUN WELL.

Paris, France, August 12.—W. K. Vanderbilt was notably successful at the races at Deauville today, scoring one first, two seconds and one third. His Sir Peter won the Prix Cheffreyille, Silver Streak came in third in the Prix Eden, Bambaiseuil finished sector of the Prix Eden, Bambaiseuil finished sector of the Prix William the Conqueror, and Serpetten came in second in the Prix Rochesnoires. Ross Adams' Hygie ran in the Prix Commerce, but failed to place.

Detroit. Mich., August 12.—Changed track conditions resulted in the riddling of today's card by withdrawals and also accounted for upsets that attended the running of several races. 'Right, sir, there'll be no shooting,' said Goater, and, sure enough, Rayon d'Or strung out his field in tremendous style, no St. Leger ever being won more ensily.

TRACK MANAGEMENT MEANS BUSINESS.

Saratoga, N. Y., August 12.—Three receivers of oral wagers were banished from the local track yesterday by the Pinkertons for accepting cash wagers. Striet orders were issued at the beginning of the meeting to use summary measures in stopping anything that could be used as evidence by reformers watching for violations of the law, and to see to it that the layers kept safely within the law as interpreted by the courts. The three men mentioned, who are well known on the turf, concluded that they could take a chance, and in cases of unknown players accepted the money on the spot. They were promptly detected by the track police and escorted to the gate, where they were told that admittance to any track would be refused them in the future. As a result of this action the other layers are now extremely cautious in displaying money.

STAR WAVE TO RACE IN EAST.

Detroit, Mich., August 12.—John Dyment, owner of Star Wave, has decided to give that good cot a thorough test, and after fulfilling an engagement at Windsor on Saturday next, the youngster will be shipped to Sheepshead Bay to start in the Flatbush and Great Eastern Stakes, to both of which he is leigble. Mr. Dyment regrets that Star Wave is not eligible for the Futurity, as he is firmly of the belief that his colt would make a good showing in that stake.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

A small but wise crowd is patronizing the racing at Delorimier Park, Montreal, and the layers are reported to be losing steadily.

Lady Roller, the dam of Dick Roller, and Winter, the dam of Wintergreen, were two of the mares Mr. Respess mated back to Dick Welles this year.

J. B. Respess will nominate Wintergreen for the Twin City. Russet. Turf and September Handleaps at Sheepshead Bay and also for the specials over a considerable distance of zround to be run later on at Gravesend and Belmont Park.

M. C. Moore, who leased some horses to a trainer named Thompson, is at Windsor from Dayton, Ohio, explaining that when they raced at Dufferin Park they were not in his control, and that he knew nothing of Thompson's troubles until recently,

SOMETHING OF THE ST. LEGER.

Odd Happenings in Connection with Running Great English Classic.

The St. Leger is the only one of the big English classics that remains to be run this season, and from re ent developments it bids fair to be the race of the year, if not the most sensational turf contest of this generation. It is scheduled for decision at Doncaster September S. The fact that King Edward's Derby winner, Minoru, will be in trim for the fray is doing a great deal toward attracting attention to the fixture, for a royal victory at Doncaster would be something new. Another thing which has aroused the curiosity of the turf-goers to fever pitch is the return to form of Bayardo, the unbeaten two-year-old of last year, and for a while the Derby favorite. Of all the races of the English turf none has a more interesting and varied history than the St. Leger. It was founded about 1775 by Colonel Anthony St. Leger, then known as Jack, and one of the wildest characters of his time. He was a close friend of the Prince of Wales, after George IV., and the records have it that he was also a founder of the famous Hell Fire Club. The St. Leger family ranks among the British peerages by the ducal house of Rutland, and the present Lord Doneraile is Edward St. Leger. When William the Conqueror first set his foot on English soil he was escorted from his boat by one of the St. Legers, and later a St. Leger married the sister of King Edward IV.

escorted from his boat by one of the St. Legers, and later a St. Leger married the sister of King Edward One of the queerest things about the history of the race is that it is not easy to know when the first St. Leger Was exactly run According to Ruff and 1776, the horse being Allabaculia and the owner Lord Rockingham. The winner in 1777 was Bourbon and in 1778 Hollandaise, owned by Sir Thomas Gascoigne. In this latter year the race was first christened, the other two being referred to as "a sweepstakes of 25 guineas each for three-year-olds; colts, 8 stone; fillies, 7 stone 12 pounds; in one two-mile heat," It was always a great northern sporting event, but in its early days it did not possess a clean name for sportsmanship, and the trickery of trainers and some owners went so far that there was talk of having the meeting expunged from the racing calendar.

It seems one of the most frequent forms of malpractice was the trick of causing a lot of false starts so as to put certain horses out of the race of 1827, which was finally won by a mare called Mailda, there being no less than eight false starts before the horses got away. This number of bad breaks had an object, and that was to hamper Mameluke, Derby winner of the year, and the trick worked well, for Mameluke did not figure in the first three. It afterward leaked out that a clique of morthern lockys engineered the whole thing, as they hated to see a St. Leger won by a Newmarket rider on a Derby winner.

well, for Mamelake did not figure in the first three, it afterward leaked out that a clique of northern lockeys engineered the whole thing, as they hated to see a St. Leger won by a Newmarket rider on a Derby winner.

At about this time there was in vogue a peculiar kind of betting which had a bearing also on the false starts and other slick doings at the post. For instance, a man would bet that twenty horses would start, though there was not the least likelihood of that number turning out for the race. Then when his money was up he would scour the adjoining country for all the available animals and enter them, making sure that the required number faced the starter. It made little difference to the bettor how far some of the horses ran; if they were at all able to leave the starting line they answered his purpose. In a little while, however, the managers of the meet got wise to the situation and raised the sure the starting the money, and the false starts and paddeding and similar tacties remained to the work of the meet got wise to the post was Plenipotentiary, the Derby winner of that year and rated as an exceptionally fast stayer, but he received such bumping and tossing that he flushed the very worst horse in the race.

Perhaps one of the greatest of all St. Leger winners was West Australian, and a plot was hatched that he should under no circumstances be allowed to win, In the first place an enemy was found working in the stable, probably with the intention of drugging the horse so that he should not even get as far as Doncaster. Clever watching on the part of his trainer prevented West Australian being tampered with, but the danger did not end there, for there was a horse netually put in the race to knock the start of the stable, probably with the intention of drugging the horse so that he should not even get as far as Doncaster. Clever watching on the part of his trainer prevented West Australian being tampered with, but the danger did not end there, for there was a horse netually put in the race to knoc around the horse and wiped the sweat on him their handkerchiefs for the purpose of keeping them as mementos.

A curious coincidence in connection with the St. Leger is the frequency with which it has been won by the same owner in succession. The list of wipners shows that it has been won by two owners three years in succession. Among the owners who won it in the early years of the last century was Lord Fitzwilliam, the family being noted for its great support of the Doncaster races. In those days the support of the Doncaster races. In those days will have been supported to the search of the Lord Fitzwilliam household used to have a feudal procession when the yorkshire seat, to the town moor. Each curried the Yorkshire seat, to the bays magnifecently equipped. Twenty outlets were in front, while in the rear were the better class the mants, and they rode four abreast, the whole thing looking like a cavalry regiment. But in maters of this kind there are no people more patriote than Yorkshiremen. It is on record that one Yorkshiremen—Sir Tatton Sykes—saw the St. Leger no less than seventy-six times. John Scott, already spoken of, trained sixteen winners in a period of thirty-five years.

Nearly all the big races on the other side of the Atlantic have been subjects for those who dream of the first past the post, but above all the St. Leger is the dreamer's race, and those are Atlantic have been subjects for those who dream of the first past the post, but above all the St. Leger of the first past the post, but above all the St. Leger on the past the post of the most notable is that of the chemist named react the most notable is that of the chemist named react who have dark dedear and who dreamed that he saw the lived at Redear and who dreamed that he saw the lived at Redear and who dreamed that he saw the lived at Redear and who dreamed that he saw the lived at Redear and who the man that the post a winner. Thereupon Pentium of the dream and offering to pay all expenses if the dream and offering to pay all expenses if the mare was only sent to the post. Whether or not l'Anson was given to superstition is not known, but he wrote back to Peat saying that sooner than disappoint him the mare would run and declined the offer of expenses.

Peat took the answer as a further sign that the dream would come true, and he put on a little more money. Sure enough Caller Ou won. Two others who profited well by dreams were Amais Charles Orde-Powlett and his brother, T. Orde-Powlett, younger brothers of the late Lord Bolton. The former dreamed of Voltigent's success in the Derby, and also the second and third horses, and between them the brothers won a handsome sum. The mother of these sportsmen was a great dreamer, for on two occasions she dreamed the winner of the St. Leger. She told her husband each time, and he having faith in her visions won big sums upon each occasion. Charles Dickens wisted Doneaster in 1857 on his way home from a holiday in the north. He knew withing about a horse nor die he dream, yet, as has been proved the proven the start of the sea of the sea of the work of the sea of the order of the sea of the sea of the sea of the sea o
